

Headway Annual Awards

Introducing the Extra Mile Award!

Sponsored by

Celebrating staff in Headway charities that have gone above-and-beyond to support brain injury survivors, families and carers.

We are looking for a member of staff working at a Headway charity who exemplifies the highest standards of compassion and excellence in their work with brain injury survivors.

Someone who has gone above and beyond and puts the needs of others before their own.

Perhaps they have a passion or skill such as music, art or crafting and have set up workshops for brain injury survivors. They may have re-invigorated services through tireless lobbying or securing of new grants from funders or they could be an amazing clinical professional that excels in the support they offer.

Whatever their actions, they will truly have gone the extra mile, and this is your chance to say thank you and ensure they get the recognition they deserve.

Submit your entry by visiting our awards page and complete the online application form. Don't forget to submit any quotes or service user feedback that supports your entry.
